Individuals are strongly encouraged to check with their specific regulatory boards, employers or other agencies to confirm that courses taken for IACET CEUs will be accepted by that entity.

Health Precautions

According to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), there has never been a reported case of any infectious disease transmitted through the use of CPR mannequins.

Red Cross follows widely accepted guidelines for the cleaning and decontamination of training mannequins. If you have a condition that would increase your risk or another participant's risk of exposure to infection, you will need to request your own mannequin prior to class. Request a separation mannequin if you have:

An acute condition, such as a cold or a sore throat, or open sores on your hands or around your mouth.

- * If you are currently infected with the Hepatitis B or C virus
- * Have any other type of infection or condition that would put you or those around you at increased risk for an infection.

If you decide you need your own mannequin, please call our 661-324-6427 ahead of time. You will not be asked to explain the reason for your request. Training in CPR and First Aid requires physical activity. If you have a condition that prevents you from taking part in the practice sessions, please let your instructor know.
